1. Universities Austria

- Founded in 1911
- National umbrella organisation of the 21 public universities
- Mission: official representative organisation, voice of the public universities, responsible for transferring the demands of universities to society, the private sector, the government and other interested parties
- Structure:
 - rector: acts as the university's delegate in the plenary; each university has one vote
 - plenary: supreme governing body of the association, all rectors are participating
 - policy committees (fora) and working groups: focus on specific issues such as teaching, research, international, financial or legal affairs ...; policy committees were established to ease the communication and coordination between the member institutions
 - permanent secretariat: secretary general, five policy advisors (research, international affairs, teaching, legal and personnel issues, budget, press and public relations), two secretaries

Doctoral studies and programmes may only be offered by public & private universities!

3. Changes due to the Bologna Process in Austria

- Introduction of the three tier system (Bachelor / Master / Doctorate)
- Introduction of learning outcomes and student centered learning
- ECTS and Diploma Supplement
- Quality Assurance (internal / external)
- Stronger focus on employability
- Stronger focus on lifelong learning

Many of the action points of the Bologna Process and the three tier system were integrated in the respective laws of each HEI.

4. Legal background / focus on public universities

The doctorate and the law

- 4.1. University Studies Act (UniStG 1997)
- 4.2. University Act 2002: Two types of doctoral programmes (regular doctorate – 120 ECTS and PhD programmes – 240 ECTS)
- 4.3. Amendment Act of the University Act 2002 (2006): abolishment of the double-track situation; minimum study period is three years
- 4.4. Amendment Act of the University Act 2002 (2009): Universities are allowed to have qualitative access regulations for choosing specially gifted students for PhD studies

6. Doctoral Studies and Programmes in Austria. What has changed?

- Interlinking of EHEA and ERA
- Minimum duration of doctoral studies/programmes is three years now
- Change from old style to new-style doctoral studies should be linked with an increase in quality; necessary basis is adequate funding by the state, which is asked for universities
- Trend towards structured doctoral programmes BUT depending on the discipline
- Implementation of doctoral schools, Doktoratskollegs, ...
- Doctoral candidates are young researchers
- Workshops, conferences, other informative activities

7. Activities on the institutional level
